

The FCC proposal on telephone privacy is not as strong as the current Indiana law. Telemarketing calls were becoming an intolerable problem before this law. Deceptive marketing calls from our credit card issuers were particularly annoying. Please do not dilute the Indiana law for vested interests.